Trenton Forging Company Awards Bill McNamee Employee of the Month of November

Bill McNamee, a resident of Oregon, Ohio, has been named Trenton Forging Company's Employee of the Month of November. Bill is a supervisor and a machinist, and he has worked at the plant for eight and a half years.

When asked why he enjoys his job he replied, "I like the challenge of being involved with getting the dies ready for production. New jobs are also challenging because it involves many people working to get the product forged and shipped to the customer."

Trenton Forging Company President, David Moxlow, says, "Bill is a valuable part of our tool process team. He is a journeyman die sinker with several years of forge tooling experience. Bill keeps things moving through the die shop efficiently, allowing us to compete with a very quick tooling turn-around for our customers."

Bill and his wife Barb have four kids named Tracy, Matt, Kelly, and AJ, and they are the proud grandparents of ten grand kids. Bill follows most sports and he enjoys attending U of M football games. He also says, "I have a lot of fun playing in the Trenton Forging Golf League. I was League Champion in 2008." Bill also likes to vacation in Myrtle Beach in the summer with his family.
